THE NAVAJO INDIAN RESERVATION.

Col. Samuel S. Smoot has received a letter from Capt. E. N, Darling, United States Surveyor, dated Fort Defiance, Arizona Territory, August 2d, via Santa Fe, New Mexico, August 11th, announcing his arrival at the Navajo Indian reservation July 23d, and the commencement of the survey on July 26th, running through the northwest portion of New Mexico into Arizona. The Navajo Indians are living on the reservations under the treaty by General Sherman. They are quiet and desire to remain at peace with the United States. Up to August 2d Capt. Darling had not been molested by any Indians and expects no trouble.

THE TAX ON BANKERS.

A Committee of the New York Stock Exchange waited on Commissioner Delano and requested him to reconsider his recent decision classifying them as bankers, and requiring them to pay that tax. The Commissioner refused to re-open the question, having given it full consideration already.

TRADE MARKS TO BE PROTECTED.

An official proclamation has been made of a Convention between the United States and France, securing in their respective territories a guarantee of property in trade marks, to take effect October 3d and continue in force ten years.

SAN FRANCISCO.

A Plan to Relieve the Stringency in the Money Market—Whaling Fleet Spoken—Important Railway Conspiracy Discovered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 18.—The Directors of the Central Pacific Railroad Company have received information of a conspiracy among some of the disaffected men formerly employed on the road, to burn all the bridges and stock of fuel east of the Sierra Nevada mountains, in the night. The company have taken measures to frustrate their designs.

EARLY COMPLETION.

The Western Pacific Railroad Company expect to complete their road from Sacramento to Oakland, opposite this city, by the 6th of September.

SERIOUS REFLECTION.

Vice President Colfax, Senator Stewart, Dr. Linderman, of the Philadelphia Mint, and others, have appealed to Secretary Boutwell to allow the transfer of several millions from the Sub-Treasury here the amount being replaced in the Sub-Treasury at New York as a relief from the present stringency of the money market, but have received no answer. It has since transpired that the Secretary has permitted one firm to draw funds from the San Francisco Sub-Treasury, and thus take advantage of the public necessities. The action of the Secretary is denounced by the press, and is creating indignation among the entire mercantile community.

TREASURE TAKEN OUT

The steamer Golden City sailed for Panama to-day with two hundred and eighty thousand dollars in treasure.

WHALERS SPOKEN.

Panama advices from St. Lawrence Bay, of July 24th, contain unfavorable intelligence from the whaling fleet. The whaleship Corinthian, which left St Lawrence last winter, sunk, and is a total loss. The following whalers have been spoken: Hy Taber, Active, California, George Howland, Hibernia, Josephine and Ohio, two whales each; John Howland, six; Helen Mar, Onward and Florida, one each; Trident, four; Progress, five; Daniel Webster, an half one.

CINCINNATI.

The Coming Excursion—Dedicateon of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Xenia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 19, 1869.

The weather is cloudy. Thermometer 90 degrees at noon.

The Committee of merchants and manufacturers met to-day and decided the route of excursion to San Francisco. The number of excurtionists is limited to sixty. December the first is the time for starting. The route will be via Indianapolis, Lafayette, Springfield, Quincy, and St. Soseph to Omaha City.

Ten thousand persons were at Xenia Fair Grounds this morning at the exercises preliminary to dedicating the grounds for the Soldiers' Orphans' Home. Senator Sherman spoke, saying, among other things, the following: At the close of the war there was in the State Treasury of Ohio, nine millions of dollars belonging to the Soldiers' Fund, which was raised for the support of soldiers' families Nine hundred thousand dollars of the fund was misapproreated towards the payment of the public debt, rather, as it was urged, than increase taxaton. In my judgment it was unconstitutionally applied, and I, as a representative of the people of Ohio, demand that the next Legislature of Ohio return the amount thus appropriated with interest, and that it be applied to the benefit of Orphan's Homes. If the people of Ohio feel as I do on the subject, they will vote for no man who will not pledge himself to vote to restore this amount, I care not to which political party he belongs.

Geo. Fairchild, of Wisconsin, General Dugan, Gov. Hayes, and Geo. H. Pendleton sent letters explaining their absence. This afternoon Rev. Mr. Pugh, of Xenia, formally presented the grounds for the Home to the Board of Control appointed by the Grand Army of the Republic for the said Home, Rev. P. P. Ingalls, President of the Board, made a response.

The attendance at the grounds of the Home was not large, on account of the admission fee being charged. A concert for the benefit of the Home will be given at Xenia to-night.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 19, 1869.

AUCTION COAL SALES.

The monthly auction sales of coal bave been suspended, in consequence of the difficulties in the coal region. The Pennsylvania coal companies have compromised with their men, and other companies are hopeful of a restoration of order, and a fall in prices in a few weeks.

RIOT AT SPRING HILL GROVE.

A desperate riot occurred yesterday at Spring Hill Grove. The Emmett Guards, of Jersey City, had a picnic there, the participants numbering over fifteen hundred persons. A rough insulted a lady and was knocked down by one of the guards, when a general fight ensued. The roughs, who were in the majority, made a desperate attack on the guards. During the melee revolvers were drawn, and knives and stones freely used. John Malone was shot and a man named O'Brien stabbed, and severely wounded with stones. After a great effort the Emmett Guards succeeded in getting back to their barges, and put off. There was great excitement among the women and children, and a fearful scene prevailed for some time. When the boats got off a large number of the crowd on shore returned to Jersey City, where they collected nearly six hundred sympathizers, and waited, last night, at the landing, the arrival of the excursionists, and the intention of killing whoever shot Malone was freely expressed; but the police was soon on hand and after a great exertion, and a free use of their maces, succeeded in averting a riot, and escorting the excursionists safely to their homes. Several arrests were made.

THE FREIGHT QUESTION.

It was this morning ascertained that although the competing lines will not contract to forward freight to western points at the present low price, after Saturday at 5 P. M., it is still by no means certain that the proposed increased rates will be agreed upon before September 1st. The prices bulletined at the Pennsylvania Central Railroad offices to-day are all-rail as follows: 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes to Chicago fifty cents per cwt.; 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes to St. Louis sixty cents. The prices bulletined at the Erie and New York Central depot are: All classes to Chicago twenty-five cents; all classes to St. Louis thirty-five cents. The Erie yesterday sent out from Jersey City fifteen trains, averaging eighteen cars to each engine, and are now upon the route at the side switch between Port Jervis and Jersey City alone. About 200 cars filled with Eastward bound goods which they are unable to bring to Jersey City until the storehouses are cleared of Western bound dry goods and general merchandise. The Hudson River Company say they are averaging 225 cars of Western goods daily, about 150 of which are consigned to Chicago and St. Louis. The number of car loads shipped yesterday was 264.

DECISION BY THE COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS.

Considerable unnecessary excitement has been occasioned by the decision of the Commissioner of Customs, that the fees collected by the Collector of New York under State and municipal laws are unconstitutional, and cannot, hereafter, be collected. It seems that the decision will not in the least change the present mode of collecting State and municipal fees, which hitherto have been paid to United States officers, as a convenience to owners, who prefer to pay all fees at once. The Supreme Court alone has power to decide what laws are unconstitutional. It is believed that the Secretary of the Treasury will not uphold the Commissioner's decision, which, at most, would render necessary separate collection officers.

THE SUSQUEHANNA RAILROAD CASE.

Ramsey, one of the three defendants in the Susquehanna Railroad case, against whom Justice Barnard issued an attachment on Monday last, came voluntarily into Court to-day and surrendered himself. The bail, which at first had been fixed at $20,000, was reduced to $10,000 and proper security was entered. Judge Barnard subsequently issued an order giving both the parties until the 24th to file interrogations and answers.

PLATE PRINTING.

The plate printers' strike appears to be drawing to a close. Mr. McCartney, of the Treasury Department, has arrived here to devise means and measures to stop the sending of badly printed currency to the Treasury. There can be no doubt the National Bank Note Company must re-engage the experienced workmen now on a strike or lose the contract.

THE PHOTOGRAPH STORY AGAIN.

Yesterday a man came on here from the country to find some firm who had offered to sell him counterfeit United States notes to the amount of $50,000 very cheap. Not finding the firm in question he visited Marshal Tooker, who will try and hunt up the rascals.

PROPOSALS FOR FIVE-TWENTIES.

The Assistant Treasurer only received proposals yesterday to sell $1,136,200 of the 5-20s, all of which were accepted. The balance of the two millions required are advertised for to-day, at the purchasing rates of yesterday, 117 80@100@11 for the various issues.

ACCIDENT TO A PUBLISHER.

Geo. P. Putnam, publisher, narrowly escaped death on Tuesday by the fall of a dummy used for hoisting bricks, upon him in a house in Eighteenth street. Though badly bruised no bones were broken.

FIREMAN'S REVIEW.

A brigade of seven companies of the Fire Department was reviewed to-day by Capt. Shaw, of the London Fire Brigade, who expressed pleasure at the appearance and discipline of the men.

LAND AND LABOR PROJECT.

Elihu Burritt, in a letter to the Times, proposes the establishment of an International Land and Labor Agency.

THE PRESIDENT'S JOURNEY.

Rumor says the President will visit Newport next Monday and Tuesday as the guest of ex-Governor Morgan.

—A fire broke out in Philadelphia last night in J. H. & W. Creighton's dry goods store, No. 217 Chestnut street. Considerable excitement was caused by the scarcity of the water. However the fire proved to be trifling. The valuable stock was much damaged by water thrown upon it. The loss is about $50,000 principally from water.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, August 19.—Baron Von Bues has replied to the recent note of Herr Von Thiele, acting Prussian Minister of Foreign Affairs. He asserts that he thought the verbal explanation sufficient to remove the misunderstanding between the two Governments, and desired to avoid any useless correspondence. The Prime Minister insists that what he said in the Committee was of a private character. The transactions of the Parliamentary Committee are not within the control of foreign governments. He declines to enter into the discussion of what was said there, but will not withhold his opinions on questions caused by inaccurate newspaper statements. Referring to the interpretation by the Vienna Cabinet of the military treaties between Prussia and the South German States, he says that in a conciliatory dispatch sent to the Austrian Minister at Berlin, in March, 1867, nothing was said as to whether the treaty of Prague prevented the Southern States from concluding treaties with other States of Germany, but it was stated that certain well known agreements representing the signature of a treaty were concerned, making it impossible to decide whether the clauses relating to the international independence of the Southern States were omitted as material of no importance, or because its importance was so great that it should have been otherwise worded. Baron Von Beust does not admit he should be called to account for words which newspapers allege were uttered by him, yet he is willing, in order to soften and remove any existing unpleasantness, to enter into correspondence in regard to the conciliatory endeavors made on the other side during the last year, which has possibly been misconstrued. The circumstance that there has been no intercourse between Count Von Wimpffen, Austrian Ambassador at Berlin, and Count Von Bismarck for some time is alluded to in the dispatch, and this was owing to the alternate absence of both from Berlin from the spring of 1868 until the close of the year. The return of Bismarck is certain, as the continued and violent attacks in the public press on Austria, gave the Austrian Government cause to so recommend. The Premier concludes by declaring that the reproach that Austria intended to prolong her attitude of reserve cannot be better disposed of than by referring to the uninterrupted intercourse between himself and Baron Von Weither, the Prussian Minister at Vienna.

VIENNA, August 19.—It is reported that no Sovereign will be present at the inauguration of Suez Canal.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 19.—The Harvard's practiced to-day in their new boat, built by Jewett. She measures forty-two feet six inches long and nineteen inches across, at the widest part. The Oxonians went over the course to-day, taking from thirty-nine to forty-one strokes per minute.

The dispatches from Tehran state that the band of sectaries from Constantinople have been arrested, charged with conspiring to assassinate the Rajah of Persia. It is said that many eminent persons are implicated in the conspiracy. The Persia troops have captured Garietrela and defeated the Turcomans in a pitched battle.

LATER.—The Harvard's rowed over the course at speed. They made a good start but flanking impeded their progress until they reached Hammersmith bridge, after that they had a fair wind and smooth water and rowed well to the end. The Oxford boat, going over the same course previously to-day, made faster time, but they had a fair wind and the tide was more in their favor. Two to one is offered on the Oxford with no takers.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 19.—The Patrie to-day asserts that the parties of Carlists on Spanish soil are increasing and that in some cases they have met with successes. It is claimed that they have captured nine officers and forty privates of the Spanish army. The Patrie hints that within a month a great military event of which it gives no particulars, will happen in Spain, after which Don Carlos will publish a manifesto.

Gen. Banks and Senators Ramsey and Fenton have arrived in this city.

SPAIN.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, August 19—The National Labor Congress commenced its session at two o'clock this afternoon. Mr. H. J. Walls, of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Committee on Organization, presented the following report:

Resolved, That the President, at his earliest convenience, appoint an executive committee from each State.

Resolved, That each Executive officer as soon as possible, after receiving his appointment, proceed to call a State Convention for the purpose of forming a State Union, and until such Union is founded, charters are to be issued from the National Labor Union, and the Presidents of the local Unions, but as soon as the State organizations are completed, the charters shall come from the State Union.

Resolved, That the President of the National Labor Union be and is hereby authorized to issue charters to State organizations whenever application is made by delegates from at least five local Trades, Labor or Co operative organizations, which meet at the call of the Executive Committee.

Resolved, That each State Labor Union is entitled to be represented in the National Labor Union as follows: One delegate to each State, irrespective of the number of members enrolled in local Unions, and one delegate for each and every 20,000 or fractional part thereof.

Resolved: That each State Labor Union shall make such laws and regulations for its guidance and support, as may to it appear most effective, provided that such laws do not in any way conflict with the laws of the National Labor Union.

Resolved, That the National Labor Union pay the mileage of delegates by the nearest and most direct route from and to the organization they represent.

Resolved, That the revenue of the National Labor Union be derived as follows: Each State organization shall, at the specified time, report to the President of the National Labor Union its number of members represented in the State organization, and the President shall levy a tax equal to five cents on each member so reported.

The report was considered seriatim and disposed of as follows: The first Resolution was passed over informally; second adopted; the third led to debate and the Convention got into a Parliamentary difficulty in relation to it from which they finally escaped. So much diversity of opinion was however developed in the Convention that Charles McLean, of Massachusetts, moved the whole report be re-committed to the Committee, and Messrs. Winn of California, Jessup of New York and Cumming of Massachusetts be added thereto, which was agreed to.

The motion that Congress adjourn on Saturday at three o'clock, and that there be but one session, lasting from nine to three o'clock, was adopted.

A long preamble, with resolutions attached, in reference to the proposed effort to establish the postal telegraph system, was read by Mr. Dunn, and was, on motion, referred to the Committee on Platform.

Adjourned.

CUBA.

Brilliant Success of the Cuban Arms—Capture of Spanish Prisoners—The Spaniards Take and Execute a Whole Provision Train of Cubans—The Troops of Queseda Call for Retaliation Which is not Yielded to—News by Way of Havana.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Further intelligence from Cuba was received here this morning. The dates are no later than the 9th but contain news. The force sent out by Queseda attacked the Spaniards moving from Remidos to Juin. Lesca at Neuvitas. It was the entire force occupying that place. After an engagement of an hour, the Spaniards fell back and attempted to secure their retreat to Neuvitas. Col. Nevaro, commanding the Cubans, had made preparations for this, and the troops finding their retreat cut off, again formed and after a short engagement were defeated and the force captured. The Cuban loss is reported at ten killed and thirty-two wounded. The whole loss of Spaniards was twenty seven killed and fifty-two wounded and one hundred and eighty-two prisoners. This is regarded as an important triumph. Gen. Jordan sent out a force to reconnoitre near Trinidad. At attempt was made to capture them, when a fight ensued, which resulted in the defeat of the Spanish forces and the capture of fifty-six prisoners. At the commencement of the fight over one hundred and fifty Spaniards deserted and joined the Cubans and took part in the fight. A small party conveying a train of provisions near Sagua La Grande, met a superior force of Spaniards and were defeated and their train captured. Another small party was captured near Puerto Principe, numbering eighty men, all of whom, it is said, were executed in the plaza of that city immediately on their arrival. The fate of these men creates intense excitement among the Cubans, who demand immediate retribution. Gen. Quesada, these letters state, hoping for interference on the part of civilized governments, has not yielded to the demands of his troops.

HAVANA, Aug. 19.—Reconnoitering parties, recently sent out, have attacked and deatroyed several insurgent encampments within the jurisdiction of Cinco Villas. Captain General de Rodas has issued orders for the completion of the Havana aqueduct. The directors of the Havana Railroad have been removed for malappropriation of the funds of the Company, and are held responsible by the Tribunal. The books of the Company have been delivered to the Captain General's Secretary for examination, and an election for new directors has been ordered.

—At Salem, Mass., yesterday, the American Science Association resumed its session. Profs. Casswell, of Brown University, and Kerr, of North Carolina, were chosen to fill the vacancies in the Standing Committee, and Profs. Agassiz and Henry as chairmen of sections A and B. Invitations were accepted to visit the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and to participate in the steamboat excursion in the harbor. A number of papers were presented and read upon scientific subjects. The attendance is very large.

EDUCATIONAL.

The National Teachers' Convention—The Exercises a Marked Success.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TRENTON, N. J., August 19.—The Educational Convention has reached immense proportions. There are over one thousand delegates in attendance besides citizens. Several district meetings were held this morning, viz: National Superintendents' Association, American Normal School Association, and National Teachers' Association. The ladies were addressed by Miss C. E. Beecher, on "Practical Female Education." The first and last meetings adopted a joint resolution favoring a National Educational Bureau and appointed a joint committee to wait on Congress and advocate the continuance and extension of said Bureau. The last named meeting listened to a lecture by Mrs. Randall, of New York, on "National Reading." John S. Pilbrock, of Boston, lectured on "The School and the Workshop," and Prof. Jas. McClintock, of Philadelphia, on "Physiology in School Education." At Taylor Hall this evening Mr. Klute, of Ohio, and State Superintendent Apgar, of New York, spoke. General Howard lectures this evening on "Education in the South with reference to the colored population." The Convention is a marked success and will necessarily give new impetus to the cause of education.

The National Board of Trade.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA., August 19.—The Committee of the National Board of Trade, on the subject of the central line of navigation from the west to Hampton Roads, has been in laborious session here for four days, and will probably conclude their inquiries to-morrow. They have given a searching investigation to every branch of their subject. The report will show a railroad and navigation systems of valley to the aggregate of thirty-four thousand miles. These systems are stimulating productions in a powerful degree. The railroads crossing to the East are over tasked; the Northern water water route is closed by ice five months in the year: the southern water route is taxed with heavy insurance on the Gulf, and high pilotage on the lower Mississippi; both water routes lead around the nation and would be blockaded in war. A direct central water line from the mouth of the Ohio to the central part of Norfolk would afford a cheaper transportation to the market for western produce, and bring cheap food to the eastern manufacturers, in the time of war as well as in peace. The water carriage would bring wheat from as far as Fort Benton by its cheap cost. The report gives a history of the Virginia canal, and estimates of cost of completing it with a capacity for boats of two hundred and eighty tons. It recommends this enterprise as a favorable object of aid from the National Government.

THE ever living philosopher, "J. N.," writes us from Cincinnati that he will assume the pressure and lift the veil at Latrobe this evening and at Harrisburg to morrow night. The world will yet bow in suppliance to the grand intellect of this great man, who for years has borne with humility the pressure of jealousy, ignorance, pride and superstition in the hallowed cause of immortal truth. The day for the lifting of the veil is nigh at hand! Let those laugh who may. "J. N." will yet see them tremble in the revealed radiance of his mission.

THE first examination of women under the new regulation admitting them to Cambridge University has resulted in a triumph for the sex. Thirty-six candidates presented themselves and twenty-five were accepted, and several of these received special marks of distinction in various branches, such as arithmetic, religious knowledge, and languages. The Cambridge where this happened was the one in England.

THE officers of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indiana Central Railroad have ordered its conductors of the road to wear a blue, and the brakemen a gray uniform. To make the change easy the company will pay for the first uniforms worn. Hitherto, we believe, the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada has been the only road on the North American Continent having uniformed conductors.

—Joshua B. Morris, of the boot and shoe house of J. T. Utterbeck & Co., attempted to commit suicide Thursday, at St Louis, by taking laudnum, but a timely emetic and other restoratives frustrated hisdesire. The young man was recently married; and no cause is known why he should desire to destroy his life.

—It is stated that the referee in the late prize fight has reviewd his action and will give a final decision to-morrow.

—The yacht Meteor has not yet sailed for Europe, but is anchored in New York bay.

ST. LOUIS.

Letter from Hitty Maginn—A Lost Art—A few Pleasant Reflections on the Pleasure of Being Hanged Artistically—Proposed Shrievalty Qualifications—Boys and Girls Should See Executions as Object Lessons on Gravitation.

ST. LOUIS, August 18, 1869.

If ever Wendell Phillips can forego his disrespectful comments on the course of the President, and his incendiary appeals to the untutored mind of the poor Indian, long enough to give some attention to another subject of pressing importance, I hope he may be induced to revise his lectures on the "Lost Arts," and adapt it to the year of grace, 1869. In spite of our continual boasts of progress, and actual advance in many of the arts of life, it must be confessed that in some things we progress backwards. Our cup is too full or our hearts too unsteady; we spill over and lose what sometimes we can ill-afford to lose. Some of the arts which our ancesters, as lately as half a quarter of a century ago, were skilled in, we have lost, and unfortunately with no substitute for those of which humanity can avail itself.

The most obvious example that will occur to every mind, is the noble art of hanging, not the ornamental part of it, such as hanging pictures and curtains, and what for some forgotten reason we call paper-hanging, but the useful, time honored branch of hanging our fellow men.

Now if we were prepared to assert, and stick to it, that it is not a good thing for a man, to convert him into an inanimate pendulum, we could dispense with this art, and call our forefathers fools in spite of their proficiency in it. But as long as we refuse to accept the dogma, that the worst use you can make of a man is to hang him," as long as we think we see both beauty and utility in the pendulum posture for some men, the laugh seem to be decidedly with our respected progenitors.

There is a maxim which used to be in the spelling books, that "what is worth doing at all is worth doing well." Somebody ought to present copies to the Sheriff of St. Louis and of Monroe county, Penusylvania, and commend it to their favorable consideration. Since we have concluded that hanging is a good thing, let us do it in a genteel and scientific manner. I remember going through a United States arsenal once in company with an Irish officer. Some very elegant sword bayonets of a recent pattern greatly excited my friend's enthusiasm. "Oh!" said he, "What a luxury to be killed with an instrument like this!" Now humanity and courtesy and modern civilization all demand that the process of hanging should be conducted in such a way as to be a luxury to the subject, and a pleasure to all who participate in the festivities. Just "put yourself in his place" once, as Charles Reade remarks. If you were going to be hanged, my gentle reader, would you wish to be under the hands of a bungler like the functionaries I have mentioned, or of a gentleman of skill and experience who would work you off in a way that would be gratifying to yourself and pleasing to the spectators? As for me, if I can't be hanged pleasantly, I prefer not to be hanged at all.

Now, what I propose is (and our distinguished Senator, who is deep in the reformation of our civil service, shall have the benefit of my suggestion when he comes back from California) that every candidate for the office of Sheriff shall be required to pass a rigid examination as to his qualifications, especially for the most important part of his duties. This must include,

1. Mechanics embracing construction of scaffold, strength of materials, strength and stretch of different kinds of rope, &c.

2. Anatomy and Physiology.

3. Logic, which will enable him to save his credit in a dispute with the subject about his rations, washing, &c.

Perhaps other branches of knowledge might be suggested, but these are indispensable, and no one should be permitted to qualify for the office of Sheriff without proficiency in them.

Whether executions should be in public I am not fully decided, but of one thing I am sure, the children in public schools ought to attend them. In the first place, every boy among them, and girl too, is a possible sheriff in the not distant future. And where, I ask, can so practical an object lesson be furnished them as this? The exhibition should be accompanied by an explanatory lecture on the subjects above named, including the doctrine of gravitation. For an occasional exercise, in absence of a living subject, the youthful mind might be taught to expand itself by the amusing process of hanging dummies, which, of course, is altogether an inferior branch of the art.

There are obvious reasons why these exhibitions would be of value to students of philosophy and theology. To catechise the leading performer publicly a few minutes before the drop falls would be a pleasing spiritual exercise for the instructor, and would be of great benefit to incipient clergymen.

The nineteenth century ought to blush at such retrogression. Instead of being behind our forefathers, we ought to excel them in this as in all other arts. Let the improvements in modern science, the appliances of modern refinement be directed this way for a while, and who can tell of the unnatural odium which through the misrepresentations of unasculated philanthrophy has attached to this art, will not disappear, and in a generation or two people will rather prefer the perpendicular mode of exit to the present popular horizontal one? What a triumph for science! What a school for the philosopher! What a glory for posterity!

HITTY MAGINN.

"GENTLEMEN," in the true sense, are of the Almighty's making, and His alone. The pure are very scarce. The run of gentlemen of all ranks are merely plated or washed. Give them a rub, put them into a novel position—into a passion, or any other trying circumstance—and the copper beneath quickly shows itself.

WHAT MATTERS IT?

It matters little where I was born,
Or if my parents were rich or poor;
Whether they shrank at the cold world's scorn,
Or walked in the pride of wealth secure;
But whether I live an honest man
And hold my integrity firm in my clutch,
I tell you, my brother, plain as I can,
It matters much!

It matters little how long I stay
In a world of sorrow, sin and care;
Whether in youth I am called away,
Or live till my bones of flesh are bare;
But whether I do the best I can
To soften the weight of adversity's touch
On the faded cheek of my fellow man,
It matters much!

It matters little where be my grave,
Or on the land or on the sea;
By purling brook, or 'neath stormy wave,
It matters little or naught to me;
But whether the angel of death comes down
And marks my brow with his loving touch
As one that shall wear the victor's crown,
It matters much?

J. N. is in Altoona.

FRESH cider is a drug in the York markets.

THE Altoona Park Association, which is to hold its first annual exhibition on the 28th, 29th and 30th prox., offers nearly $3,000 in premiums.

THOS. BEAVER, of Danville, not content with donating $25,000 to Lafayette College, has donated a similar amount to Dickinson College, Carlisle.

MISS LIZZIE POSTEN, of Cass township, Huntingdon county, died from the effects of the explosion of a can of coal oil, with which she was endeavoring to kindle the fire. Another fatal warning.

A WIDOW lady named Betsy Mathers, residing in the Loop, while out berrying some days ago, had five hundred dollars, all her means, stolen from her house. It is hoped the villain may be secured.—Hollidaysburg Register.

AN accident occurred near the junction, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, Thursday morning last. An empty oil train jumped the track, and three of the cars rolled down an embankment. A brakeman named John Rogers was crushed to death. His remains were taken to Ohio for interment.

ON yesterday week, a very sad accident happened in Licking Creek township, which cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood. Two young men, sons of Mr. Frank Sipes, of said township, were engaged in hauling bark, and in coming down the hill, a lad about eleven years of age, was walking beside the wagon, and it is supposed slipped and fell, when the wagon passed over his head, crushing it in and killing the boy instantly. The elder brother, aged about nineteen years, was driving and did not know anything of the accident until he had gone some distance, when he looked back and saw his brother lying in the road dead.—Fulton Democrat.

THE Elk county Advocate says on Monday morning a-week, "Boot," a little son of Ellis Brown, aged about eleven years, came to his death in the following manner: Mr. Wilbur, a gunsmith in Centreville, had a gun for repair containing a load of powder, ball and ramrod—all of which had become so rusted in the barrel as to make it necessary to take out the breech. He then placed the end of the barrel in the fire to melt out the ball, having first cleaned out—as he supposed—all the powder. At that moment the whole contents were discharged, the ramrod taking effect in the abdomen of the deceased; who, at the time, was standing near the muzzle of the barrel. After nine or ten hours of severe pain death relieved his suffering.

THE Franklin Repository says: On Wednesday last a party hunting berries on the Cross Mountain, South of the Little Cove, found the remains of a child, which upon examination proved to be those of the little daughter of James Strealy, who was lost in the Cove Mountains about three months ago. It seems that after becoming separated from her companions, the little creature wandered off four or five miles among the mountains, and then perished from hunger. At the spot where she was found a quantity of moss had been collected, which she had arranged in the form of a play house against or under a ledge of rocks. The remains of the child were identified by means of the hair and vestiges of clothing which were strewn around.

THE Oxford Press says: Wm. Kelly, of East Nottingham, has a curiosity in the shape of a heifer calf, one year old, which gives a good supply of milk. For some time he had noticed that a young calf which was taken from its mother and put into the same pasture with the heifer, was apparently obtaining nourishment from it, and on Monday last he resolved to test whether there was any milk in the case, or whether it was all sham, and therefore cornered the animal and held her while another person actually milked about a pint of rich milk from her udder! The milk was placed in a bowl and a rich cream rose on it during the night. If anybody else can put their yearling heifers to a better use than Mr. K. does in making them nursing mothers to young calves, we would like to hear of it.

OHIO.

THE pear crop in Ohio is unusually heavy.

LANCASTER has subscribed $25,000, to be loaned for the encouragement of manufacturers.

A MONSTER black snake was killed by a mowing machine in the vicinity of New Lisbon, recently. It measured over nine feet in length.

THE East Liverpool Record says: At the station on Saturday last, Mr Andrew Miller, in jumping off the cars, fell back upon the track under the last car, which passed over him, killing him instantly. He left a wife and seven children.

THE Miami Union suggests that farmers be careful and keep an accurate account of the number of bushels and the number of acres sown and bushels of wheat produced, which account will be very useful when reports are made to township Assessors and Officials for the United States Census next year. A good suggestion.

A YOUNG man in Sandusky was lately called up during the night by an old lady living in the same house, with the announcement that robbers were trying to get into the house. The young man shot himself in the hand in the hurry of loading his revolver, and at the same moment the door was broken open, and the robber fell headlong on the floor dead drunk.

THE Ravenna Democrat says: Upon Thursday of last week, Milton A. Young, a son of Jas. I. Young, of Hiram, while at work upon a thrashing machine received an injury that caused his death. As the machine was started up he attempted to step to his place, and put his foot on the hopper. From some cause he slipped and the right foot was drawn under the cylinder, the heel entirely torn off and the limb crushed half way to the knee. Medical attendance was procured, but it was impossible to save his life.

"ONE SHALL BE TAKEN AND THE OTHER LEFT." We have recently heard of an other of those singular freaks of lightning, which occur so frequently, but which we are totally unable to account for. The present case occured in the eastern part of the county a couple of weeks ago. Two women, on the approach of a thunder shower, were engaged in milking the cows, in close proximity to each other. While so engaged, a bolt struck and killed one of the cows without injuring the woman while the same bolt killed the other woman without injuring the cow. A more peculiar instance of the power and effect of electricity has never been brought to our notice. Wooster Republican.

Spiritualism Among Savages.

"Among savage animists, it is to be observed that there always arises a class of professional conjurors, who live in special intercourse with the spirits, and perform wonders by their aid. One of the old Moravian missionaries, a century ago, gives an account of the way in which the Greenland sorcerers used to go on their spirit journey to the other world. When the angekok has drummed and writhed about for a while, he is bound by one of his pupils, his head between his legs, and his hands behind his back. The lamps are put out and the windows darkened, for no one must see him hold intercourse with his spirit; no one must move or even scratch his head, that the spirit may not be interfered with, or rather, as the old missionary says that no one may catch the sorcerer at his trickery, and there is no going up to heaven in broad daylight. At last, after strange noises have been heard, and a visit received from or paid to the spirit, the magician reappears unbound, but pale and excited, and gives an account of his adventures. The Ojibway conjurors also do this untying trick; and across in Siberia the shamans practice the same coarse juggle. The shaman sits down and is bound hand and foot, the shutters are shut, and he invokes the spirits; all at once there arises a ghostly horror in the dark—voices are heard in different parts, and a rattling and drumming on the dry skin the shamin sits on; bears growl, snakes hiss, squirrels leap about the room. At last all is over, and behold, in walks the shaman free and unbound from outside. No one doubts, says Castren, that it was the spirits who were drumming, growling and hissing in the yurt, and who released the shaman from his bonds. The unbinding trick is not unknown in English folk-lore, and it is needless to point out the similarity in the exhibition of the Davenport Brothers.—Appleton's Journal.

An Old Lawyer.

An English paper says: "The longevity of great lawyers, and their vitality at an advanced age, often furnish a theme for wonder; and by the speech which he delivered in the House of Peers last night, Lord St. Leonards has added another to the list of achievements which we link with the advanced years of such men as Brougham and Lyndhurst. Lord St. Leonards is eighty-eight years of age. He is old enough to have some faint recollections of the French Revolution. When the battle of Waterloo was fought he was more than thirty years of age; when the first reform bill was passed he was more than fifty; and by the time that the Corn Laws had been repealed he was already an old man. He has lived through the reigns of the first as well as the third Napoleon. He has seen the Administrations of Pitt, Liverpool, Portland, Sidmouth, Canning, Grey, Peel, Russell, Palmerston, Derby, Disraeli, and Gladstone. His memory extends over nearly the whole of an eventful century. And yet in spite of his exceptional age, and of the hard work which he had to endure when at the bar, he last night spoke for fifty-five minutes. His voice, it is true, was low, and his articulation somewhat indistinct, but he exhibited flashes of his old fire and vigor. The subject of his speech was a protest against the design of the government to apply the surplus suitors' fund of the Court of Chancery to the building of the new Law Courts."

THE following anecdote is told of the late J. F. Herring, the animal painter: A dozen years ago he painted a small picture for one of our best known dealers, and received a check in payment. The check was written on a slip of paper, "Pay Mr. J. F. Herring," and duly signed, but without the insertion of the words "bearer" or "to order." The clerk at the Union Bank looked very doubtfully, first at it and then at the person presenting it. The artist noticed the hesitation and demanded what was wrong. The clerk explained. "Don't you see its payable to J. F. Herring?" "I do," said the clerk. "Well, I am he." "How do I know that?" said the clerk. "Do you know what J. F. Herring is?" "Rather," said the clerk, "I've got 'Three Members of the Temperance Society' at home." Herring was delighted. He seized a pen, and on a sheet of blotting paper lying on the counter dashed off a sketch of the horses' heads drinking from a trough, which compose the picture. "What do you think of that," said he, handing it across. The clerk paid him at once.

EATHQUAKES PROPHESIED.—Of late the theory has been advanced that earthquakes are caused by the influence of the sun and moon on the internal waves of the earth. A German named Rudolf Falb has lately written in defense of this hypothesis, and in order to give a clear proof of its correctness he prophesies that the next earthquakes will occur in equatorial countries on the 7th of August, the 6th of September and the 4th of October.

The Carr's Rock Disaster—Confession of The Man Who Caused It.

On the 15th of April, 1868, the public were horrified by the occurence of a distressing accident on the Erie Railway, near Carr's Rock. The details of the affair have not been forgotten, and ever since, detectives employed by the road have been searching for the parties by whom it was supposed to have been caused. A Mr. Knight was arrested on suspicion, but released for want of evidence. On the 25th of May, 1869, John Bowen, the man who had first aroused suspicion against Knight, was committed to jail on a charge of tampering with the track, and of having committed perjury in swearing that he saw Knight engaged in the same way on the night previous to the accident. Soon after his committal, Bowen made a partial confession exonerating Knight from the alleged crime, and acknowledging that he himself unfastened the rail, and then charged it upon Knight, for the purpose of securing the reward of $2,000, which had been publicly offered by the Company for the detection of any person engaged in such a crime.

Yesterday Bowen sent a message to Mr. Reddington, Superintendent of the Delaware Division of the Erie Railway, stating that he desired an interview with him, as he had an important communication to make. Mr. Reddington accordingly visited Bowen in his cell, where, in the presence of witnesses he made the following confession. It was made voluntarily on the part of Bowen, Mr. Reddington having assured him that he need not expect any leniency from the Company if he had been guilty of the crimes mentioned. The following is the confession:

"I reside in Orange county. I have read the Bible and prayed lately and hope to get some of my sins pardoned. I may not live long, and don't like to die with so much on my conscience. I wish to lighten it a little. About between Summer and Fall, three years ago, on the Erie Railway, between the Delaware bridge at Sawmill Rift and Kennedy's Cut, I was going along (I was not working for the Company) one day, and I kicked a stone from the middle of the road to the edge of the track against the chair; there it lodged. I didn't think it would do any damage but it did, it started two or three cars of the track. Some time in February, one year ago, there was a crooked rail at Rosa's switch, near the chair. I took a piece of iron and pushed the rail out of the chair, and raised it up and put a spike under it at the bended place on a 2nd quarter tie; I shoved it back into the chair, but it wouldn't go in without something heavy to force it in; I left it at that, and along came a freight train and broke it off, and the train ran off down the bank. About the 15th, a year ago last March, (April) at 3 o'clock in the morning, I came down the track (I left my place early,) and had been at Lackawaxen; I went to see about a mine I had burning out there. I dropped a stone on my foot which hurt me so I walked slowly down the track until I came to Carr's Rock; a freight train passed me there, going west; I stepped aside till it passed; I saw on the river side a rail (crooked) which was working up and down as the train passed; I took a piece of the cap off a rail and tried to fix it as well as I could; I shoved the rail out of the chair and put a block under it to raise it; I put a spike under the quarter-tie, in order to make it come straight to its place again. I didn't think it was going to do any damage at all. I traveled on from half a mile to three-quarters down the track, and then I heard a great noise. I thought it was the stones slipped down into the water. Instead of the stones it was a train going east, and in two or three days I heard it was the train instead of the stones. That was the Carr's Rock calamity! I felt very sorry from that time to this. Since I have been here I don't sleep at nights. I was not then in the employ of the Erie Company; before any of the occurrences I had been employed by the Erie Company add had been discharged by the Company and sent to jail under a charge of forgery. I knew when I put the spike under that rail if a heavy train came upon that rail afterward it would break that rail, but if a train had come from the east it would have drove it down. I didn't know from which way the next train was coming.

"JOHN BOWEN."

Summer Complaint.

Concerning this common disease, Hall's Journal of Health has the following:

When a man has died of diarrhœa, he has died of cholera in reality. It may be well for travelers to know that the first, the most important, and the most indispensable item in the arrest and cure of looseness of the bowels, is absolute quietude on a bed; nature herself always prompts it by disinclining us to locomotion. The next thing is to eat nothing but common rice, parched like coffee, and then boiled, and taken with a little salt and butter. Drink little or no liquid of any kind. Bits of ice may be eaten and swallowed at will. Every step taken in diarrhœa, every spoonful of liquid, only aggravates the disease. If locomotion is compulsory, the misfortune of the necessity may be lessened by having a stout piece of woolen flannel bound tightly round the abdomen, so as to be doubled in front and kept well in its place. In a practice of many years we have never failed to notice a gratifying result to follow these observations.

THE New Orleans Picayune says that the cotton crop will be 500,000 bales in excess of last year, and that it is worth more to the South than that of 1860 61. One reason of this is that the South is now raising food for consumption, which was not the case in previous years. Cotton was then sold to purchase supplies. Raising now what they want, cotton becomes a surplus, and brings its whole value in cash. Louisiana has made nearly 500,000 hogsheads of sugar. The war, loss of labor, and the demoralization of the negro reduced this product almost to nothing. It is on the increase, and it will not be long before they will boast of 500,000 hogsheads again. Cuban troubles, too, will keep up the price. Sugar lands have advanced in value in Louisiana and are largely sought for.

THE poor children of this city are largely interested in the peach kernel trade. They extract the kernel from the "stone," put them upon strings, or threads, in bunches numbering from one to five hundred, and sell them to druggists. The price is one cent a hundred, and an industrious gleaner might, possibly, collect, crack, and string five hundred in a day; so that those urchins in the trade are not likely to be called on to pay income tax. The kernels are used, principally, for making alcoholic "bitters," and are chiefly valuable for the hydrocianic acid to be procured from them.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary, with twenty-two inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather cloudy and oppressively warm; mercury 92 in shade.

—The Nick Wall and Silver Bow left St. Louis for Missouri River on Tuesday.

—The Salver No. 2 is wrecking the Cora, and will recover her machinery and damaged cargo.

—Captain Phill. Crooks has taken command of the Rob Roy in the Bayon Macon and Texas trade.

—The Glasgow has gone into the Cincinnati and Memphis trade, Captain Andy Robinson in command.

—Capt. W. B. Hazlett, has assumed command of the Nile and placed her in the St. Louis and Omaha trade.

—The Dubuque Herald suggests that a watchman should walk the cabins of steamers, armed with pistols, in order to protect passengers from robbers.

—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all vessels, steamboats and barges engaged in the carrying trade, whether on the sea or rivers, are liable to tax as express carriers.

—The Bellevernon swung out of the channel at Buffington, and at last accounts was likely to remain there until a rise in the river. Men were wading around the boat in water less than knee deep.

—The Fort Smith Era of the 14th says: "The Arkansas is very low and falling. The American, on her way up, grounded on a bar a short distance below Van Buren, and had hard work to get away, being detained some eight or ten hours."

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Wednesday says: The Argosy arrived from Wheeling with a light trip, a large proportion of which she reshipped on the Louisville Mail boats. She left for Pomeroy last evening with a much lighter trip than she brought.

—The steamers Nutz sunk near Atchison, with a cargo of ties, became a total wreck, it is said. She was insured. The Zephyr, also running in the railroad tie trade, sunk a few days ago above St. Joseph, but was pumped out and raised. It seems the snag boats have cleared all the obstructions out of the Missouri.

—St. Louis advices of Tuesday report the following: The Tom Morgan is hard aground near the Cora. The Evening Star caught fire at the levee, early this morning, but the flames were extinguished before any material damage was done.....Willie J. Stratton, well known river man, died here yesterday.....The weather has been terribly warm for several days past, and although heavy rains have fallen, the temperature ranges from 90 deg. to 100 deg. in the shade.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. Pamphlets, Maps and Circulars furnished on application. au10

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 132½@133.

FAVORABLE reports come from the copper-region of Lake Superior. The mines are yielding handsome results, which would be profitable at somewhat better prices.

THE amended election returns in Tennessee increase the vote for Stokes so rapidly as to make it probably equal to that given to GRANT. This shows that his rival, Senter, had but a limited Republican support.

VALUABLE slate quarries have been found in York county, near the Hanover junction. The same county also boasts large deposits of an iron ore so highly carbonized as to make it especially desirable for rails. The product is said to be very nearly equal to steel.

AN OPPOSITION PRINT at Philadelphia reiterates daily its slanderous imputations upon Judge WILLIAMS. The journalist who persists in a falsehood, after it has been plainly exposed as this has been, clearly unites in his own person the manners of a "Dead Rabbit" and the morals of Moyamensing. We can have no controversy with such a representative of the subterranean Democracy.

A MONTH AGO, the rebel press of Mississippi were quite confident that General GRANT would "preserve an attitude of neutrality" in their local politics, and declared that nothing more was to be desired. The "undoubted authority," upon which they relied, since proves to be altogether worthless, and they have resolved to throw the Dent ring overboard. Not even that gentleman's abusive epistle to Mr. BOUTWELL will save his bacon with the Mississippi Democracy.

IT IS NOT only Mississippi and Texas, in which the Republican ascendancy has been imperilled by the same Conservative tactics which our friends have found so fatally mischievous in Virginia and Tennessee. But Missouri and West Virginia were also in danger. We may rejoice that the Conservative trick has been at last effectually exploded, so that it can do us no more harm. Our friends in the two latter States forewarned are forearmed. They will accept the wise policy which looks to the abrogation of existing restrictions upon the ex-rebel suffrage, but they will take good care to administer that policy themselves. They do not propose to commit it to such politicians as Carlisle in the one State, or Henderson in the other. It only needs that our friends there shall heed the consequences which have followed an unhappy schism, with the defeat of the Republican cause and a rebel triumph at Nashville and Richmond, and they will take good care to unite upon the most discreet and effective measures, in support of the true policy of a liberal and provident statesmanship.

SUBSEQUENT developments are held to warrant the belief that Chief Justice CHASE, in entertaining the application for a habeas corpus in YERGER'S case, proposed to release the prisoner, pronouncing a judgment artfully framed, for the express purpose of overthrowing the military control of the unreconstructed States. This purpose was only foiled by the shrewd tactics of Attorney General HOAR, who contrived to involve that excellent magistrate in such an embarrassment that he no longer had the audacity to complete his plan. These developments are reported in detail by a close observer of the proceedings taken under the writ, and it seems difficult to dispute their real signification. It is clearly understood that, since the retirement of the late President, the mantle of his malignant hatred to the Republican party has descended to the shoulders of the Chief Justice, there to displace, on every convenient occasion, his official ermine. He will not fail to improve every possible opportunity for delivering his deadliest blows at the fundamental policy of the only political organization which stands in the way of his ambitious hopes. Here comes another case in Alabama, in which he is sure to figure before it is finally disposed of. One Collins, who killed Dr. Haughey, the Republican candidate for Congress in one of the districts of North Alabama some time since, having securely defied the civil law, has been at last arrested by the military and will be held for trial. The Chief Justice may be expected to intervene, mending his hold in the Yerger case and gratifying, if he can, his so-far baffled purpose to draw the teeth out of the Congressional policy, by eliminating its military authority. He is in the field for the Democratic nomination for the next Presidency, and will play every card to win Southern support. Let him be known as the last enemy of the public repose who still retains high office.

A MELANCHOLY MISTAKE.

Mrs. H. B. STOWE has lent a name until now illustrious in letters, to the propagation of a shameful scandal which can never, by any possibility, be either substantiated or disproved. If her motive was chivalrous, her achievement is eminently Quixotic. Whatever of generous sympathy she may have felt with a suffering and wholly blameless woman, five minutes of careful reflection, or an half hour of discussion with some careful and judicious friend, would have saved her from a mistake which bids fair to be fatal to her professional repute, and which must always be deplored by a very considerable proportion of that cultivated world which in reading her books has learned to admire the woman.

What unfortunate afflatus could have inspired her thus to associate her own honor of name with the recital of a narrative so shocking in particulars as entirely to forbid its discussion or even its perusal in the presence or hearing of any woman whom we respect? What an unprofitable Quixotism, when we consider that every fact essential to a proper judgment upon her story is buried forever in an impenetrable oblivion! How utterly superfluous the attempt to darken with additional odium—even a crime so vile as that upon which she now asks the judgment of the world—the memory of a man whose entire life was already known as a flagrant defiance of Divine Commandments, whose perverted genius has made his own immoral worthlessness forvever memorable, and whose name deserves perpetual execration, as that of a seductive and shameless apologist for almost every social vice and individual iniquity! Mrs. Stowe need not have besmirched her own spotless pen in this business of painting any blacker that incarnation of immorality. Whether her story be true or false, it was not enough that she herself believed it, as certainly she did. She should have considered the judgment of the world upon the merits of her narration, upon its meagre facts, upon the hopelessness of any profitable investigation with a view to any clear result, and upon the indiscretion which could be guilty of this fatal literary mistake.

Since Mrs. STOWE has written as a woman, perhaps it would be cruel to hold her to the criticism which, if she were a man, would crucify her in any literary court in christendom. Perhaps that is all that need be said.

THE COAL TRADE—TARIFFS AND RAILWAY FREIGHTS.

The existing tariff on coal practically affects but one variety of foreign products, that of the Nova Scotia mines. The duty is $1.25 per ton, gold. That coal now sells afloat in the Eastern ports at $9 per ton. Add the duty, say $1,75 per ton, currency, to $3 per ton for freight, and the coal realizes but $4.25 to the Picton miner. Remove the duty and his coal would stand him in at least $5, cost of mining and freight, afloat at New York. Our own coals, from the Cumberland (Md.) district are far superior to the Picton coal, in quality, especially for steam purposes; these are sold at $4.60 per ton free on board at Baltimore. Freight to New York would make this, say, $6,00, or $1,00 more than the lowest figure at which the Nova Scotia mines can ship to a profit. The Cumberland coal is an article so much better, indeed so much more economical for steam consumption, that even at that higher cost it would drive the foreign coals out of the market. No English coals are imported, except in a limited way and for special uses.

If the tariff is taken off, the coal trade must come down, under the rivalries of business, to the lowest practicable figures. Whatever the effect may be upon the anthracite and Nova Scotia coals, we infer, from recent publications in the Cumberland interests, that the latter are not apprehensive of any serious ill consequences. On the contrary, it is possible that the effect might tend powerfully to stimulate the production in the Maryland coal-field.

The Baltimore and Ohio railway policy, in the matter of coal freights from the mines to tide-water, has always presented a notable contrast to that of the Pennsylvania coal-carriers. Since the spring of 1868, the former has charged a uniform rate of 1¼ cents per ton per mile, being less than half the tariff on the Reading Road. The Baltimore corporation has been repeatedly urged by the Pennsylvania interest to advance its rates, but declined, and will still decline to do so. The effect of its ton tariff was to build up a largely increased traffic, the improvement in the ten months, ending July 1st, being nearly seventy per cent. in tonnage. All of this coal has ruled at a uniform price delivered at Baltimore. The effect has been seen in an almost complete exclusion of the speculative element from the mining operations of the Cumberland region, the business going forward with a healthy progress and upon legitimate principles, and yielding the largest extent of solid benefits not only to the carrier, but to the coal owners and to the numerous operative population in their employment. Hence that district of Maryland presents, in almost every social and business aspect, the most agreeable contrast to the condition of affairs at present in our anthracite counties.

THE ANNEXED ARTICLE, from the Nashville Press, gives one a fair idea of the sort of bed-fellows whom the Senter Republicans of Tennessee have just taken up with:

We learn, on high Conservative authority, that some emissaries of the Ohio Democracy, of the regular State Rights-Repudiation — White-Man's-Government school, were in the city last week to confer with the old Democratic leaders of this State. It is said that the Buckeye missionaries urged upon their brethren here to make the Legislature vote down the Fifteenth Amendment, elect Johnson to the Senate, and pitch overboard every Republican State officer, from Supreme Judges down to the lowest position, by holding a revolutionary convention to make a new Constitution. Republicanism, by this programme, is to be cut up root and branch, and be superseded by that political Canada thistle, known as State Rights Democracy. Johnson is urged for the Senatorship, not only as a representative politican, but in a spirit of defiance to the great national Union saving emancipating party, the Republican organization. If the victory for free suffrage is to be prostituted to the service of the Democracy, the attempt cannot be made a day too soon. There are thousands ready to take up the gauntlet, and they will not lay it down until States Rights Democracy receives as sound a drubbing as it has received in time past. The national Union men of Tennessee have no inclination to sit down to a banquet of Dead sea apples, fair without and ashes of bitterness within.

A SOUTHERN Democratic journal, the Savannah News, pronounces the following eulogium upon its Northern friends. Its principal merit is in its truth:

"It is a rare thing for the Northern Democrats to make a judicious nomination. Indeed, since the South has been left out of their councils, the party appears to have lost its brains. There seems to be a fatality that drives them away from every road that can possibly lead to victory. They appear incapable of learning anything from the past. It is their blunders alone that have kept alive the radical party, which has long since been condemned by the American people. In the late Presidential campaign, they not only brought out a ticket that was obliged to be beaten, but took special pains to secure its defeat by putting the party on the defensive in a long and silly string of irrelevant resolutions. In the States they have been guilty of equal folly. With the exception of Hoffman, in New York, and Rosecrans, in Ohio, they have blundered in almost every nomination made since the close of the war. The Pennsylvania nomination, on Tuesday, affords a striking example. They could have had the services of Hancock by anything like a unanimous nomination, and his name would have put a Democratic nomination beyond a peradventure; but no, they must go off on a wild goose chase after a 'copperhead' nominee, a well-known partizan who will keep his minority party together and the opposition quite as firmly united."

THERE is a deep and powerful agitation among the Salt Lake Mormons, growing out of the schismatic proceedings of the anti-polygamic branch of the church. A letter says:

The interest awakened by this late movement here is wonderful, the mass of the Mormons are fully impressed with the idea that they are on the eve of a great change; and many of them begin to have visions and dream dreams presaging something grandly mysterious, though they hardly know as yet what it is. It has been a settled point in the Mormon creed for years, that there must be a great split in the church before the final gathering, and the impression is general here that this is the "big split."

GENERAL CANBY has just issued a tabular statement of the registry list of each county in Virginia, and the vote on the Constitution at the late election. The number of white men registered was 149,781, and the number of colored men, 120,103. Of the former 125,144 voted, and of the latter 97,205. The attendance of both classes at the polls was large, and the absentees were in nearly equal proportions, as 24,637 white men and 22,898 colored men did not vote. The anxiety of all parties to "get back into the Union" is indicated by the fact that 210,585 votes were cast for the Constitution, and only 9136 against it. The proscriptive clauses which were separately submitted were defeated by about forty thousand majority.

THE VAST WATER POWER OF MAINE.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WATERVILLE, ME., Aug. 10, 1869.

Pennsylvania has her exhaustless coal beds; Maine her vast water power. Were her 3,000 mill privileges already found occupied to their full extent, it would give her nearly as many more compact villages and large cities, and would increase her population to millions and would change her name from Pine Tree State to Spindle State. Extensive, profitable manufactures would take the place of her decreasing and profitless commerce. She would demand Protection for her manufacturers instead of Free Trade for her ships. The war was a severe blow to the prosperity of Maine. Before that time she was the second State of the Union in tonnage; now her ship yards are idle.

In this state of things her excellent Governor most wisely secured the appropriation of a sufficient sum to make a survey of the waterpower of the State and appointed the best person, Walter Wells, to be found in this country for the purpose. One interesting octavo volume of the results has already appeared and a second will soon be issued. From this report it will be seen that Maine with her 226 miles in an air line, of sea coast and her 3,000 miles of shore on which the tide rises and falls, her pine forests fast disappearing and her ocean alive with fish has other resources. From her location in the rain draft from the Gulf of Mexico and from her being swept by rain-condensing winds from off the cold ocean current, the rain fall is 42 inches, 10½ inches each quarter of the year—while other States enjoying a lower latitude have a less quantity. Ohio has but 41 inches. This gives Maine three trillion cubic feet in mass of water, 35 per cent of which is poured back into the ocean by her rivers coursing her own territory for a few miles, from lakes and ponds, in some cases 1600 feet above the level of the sea. The low temperature of the State, is attended with far less waste of the streams than is experienced at the hot season of the year in other parts of the country. The low run of the rivers of Maine is not usually large. The cool fogs reduce the evaporation elsewhere conducted, most vigorously during August, almost to nothing. This same cause—low temperature—retards the melting of snow in spring, preventing the destructive freshets which are experienced in our own State and in Ohio. For the same reason, workers in mills and factories can accomplish ten per cent. more than in more southern and interior districts.

From the 1,650 lakes within the boundaries of her river-basins and 2,400 square miles of clacustrine surface,—not including hundreds of minor ponds,—which serve as fountains and feeders of the rivers, upheld at an astonishing altitude when we consider their proximity to the sea, these waters rush to the sea falling sometimes great distances almost perpendicularly. The Androscoggin falls 1,250 feet in 150 miles, and at Rumford 163 feet in one mile. Her water-power is 2,525,000 horse power "a power that operates day and night without cessation from one century's end to the other, a power equal to the working force of well nigh 5,000,000 ordinary horses laboring for the whole twenty-four hours, or the force of 30,000,000 able-bodied men, likewise working without intermission." Of this vast power 1,000,000 horse power is available. "It burns up no fuel, eats no hay or oats, or flour or meat."

In large establishments, where the cost of manufacturing is less than in smaller ones, with coal at $6 per ton, manufacturing cannot be produced by steam short of $70 per annum for each horse power of work done. Mechanical force, it is said, can be realized on ordinary or large water privileges at an outlay of $8 per annum of each horse power of work done. With coal then at $6 per ton the cost of producing by steam an amount of power equivalent to that at Waterville would cost, it is estimated, at $500,000 per annum; by water, including attendance supplies and repairs in both cases, $56,500. The total difference in the cost of operating machinery by steam and by water to the total amount of 34,000 horse power in our medium to large water privileges is $2,097,000 per year. 300,000 of this 1,000,000 horse power is already accessible by rail or by steamer or coaster. Here is a power almost beyond computation in all its bearings. How much of it will ever be used remains to be seen by coming generations. Lewistown, Biddeford, Saco aand Augusta are examples of the results where this power is employed in propelling machinery. S.

How the Yo Semite Valley was Formed.

How was this curious freak of nature formed? is a question that every visitor at least will ask. It is a puzzle for the imagination, and baffles even the scientific student. Prof. Whitney, of the State Survey, discusses the question elaborately in his admirable volume on the Yo Semite, the big trees, and the high Sierras, which, with its maps, should be the companion of every one who visits those regions. He rejects the idea of water having worn it out, or that it was the work of a glacier, but concludes, as the only practicable supposition, that the bottom dropped out! There is no other way of accounting for what is gone but that it is sunk below. It is not carried down stream; it does not remain in the valley—there would be no valley if it did; there are but comparatively small deposits of rock in the valley under the walls, no more than the waste by frost and ice and water of a few generations at the most; and, indeed, there seems no other supposition that meets the mystery than that the missing rocks are swallowed up below. It would appear, too, as if the chasm had not long been filled up to its present point, and that originally, and until within a comparatively recent period, the whole valley was a great, deep lake. This is a peculiar theory—it applies but rarely to the strange forms of nature scattered over the earth's surface—but the Yo Semite is a peculiar phenomenon; it justifies indeed demands a peculiar explanation, and no other fits it so reasonably as this.

THE question of the consolidation of the Michigan Southern and Wabash roads is discussed by officials of these roads and of Erie, on condition that the Erie will not build a new line from Akron to Toledo. Several other consolidation movements are talked of, and it is understood that parties interested in both the Erie and Central roads are endeavoring to obtain control of the Northwestern. The Central party holds a large amount of Northwestern stock, and the Erie party has been buying heavily, recently.

GREENSBURG.

Arrival of Governor Geary—His Address.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, August 18, 1869.

DEAR GAZETTE: At a late hour Monday evening Hon. John W. Geary, Governor of Pennsylvania, arrived at this place. He came on private business, and his arrival was entirely unexpected. At the depot he was recognized by a Democratic citizen and conducted to the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Logan. His presence becoming generally known he was called upon during Tuesday by a large number of citizens, greeting all with his accustomed warmth and cordiality, and talking freely of the issues pertaining to the present political canvass. He was in prime health, and looking every inch the gallant soldier and distinguished civilian.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

The Republican County Committee being in session at McQuaid's, it was determined to hold a public meeting at the Court House in the evening, at which the Governor was invited to deliver an address. At the appointed hour the Court room was filled with an audience of leading citizens, including quite a number of the Democracy. Jacob F. Kreps, Esq., candidate for Assembly, was called to the chair, and Governor Geary making his appearance was introduced to the assembly and received with warm applause. I will not attempt more than the merest outline of his speech of an hour and a half. He spoke of having spent his youth on a farm in old Westmoreland, and remembering associations of by-gone days, felt keenly the abuse which had been heaped upon him by the "Democratic clique" of Greensburg. Notwithstanding this, however, he had pursued his course undismayed, as he would to the end, acting in accordance with his convictions of right. Turning his attention to the national finances, he said that during the last year of Andrew Johnson's administration the public debt had been increased $40,000,000, while during the first five months of Grant's official career the debt had been reduced $43,000,000. He then referred to the State finances and showed that under Republican administration, since 1860, the State debt, left as a legacy of Democracy, had been reduced largely, and would continue to be larger in proportion if the same administration was continued. The Democracy talked of the extravagant expenditure of money, and their leaders appealed to the farmers and laboring class to throw off the yoke of oppression, in the way of taxes, which was weighing them down and robbing them of hard-earned money. The Governor inquired of any Democratic farmer, laborer or tenant present, how much tax he paid to the State, and answered for them, that they did not pay a dollar and had not, since the Republican administration took off the tax on real estate, transferring to railroads, banks, and other corporations granted special privileges. This unquestionably was news to the Westmoreland Democracy, but doubtless at their next meeting the Governor's truthful statement will be characterized as a "Republican lie," and be so regarded by the "faithful" but ignorant, dyed in the wool Democracy. It is to be hoped that the coming generation will be more enlightened, since all hope of converting the present race of Westmoreland Democrats. Those who have grown gray in voting that ticket, must be given up as a hopeless task.

The Governor went over the whole ground, rather hurriedly, refuting the misrepresentations of the opposition in regard to his administration, proving most conclusively that he had done more than any of his predecessors to check special legislation, and also that he had been infinitely more considerate in the exercise of the pardoning power. This portion of his speech, particularly as to the pardoning power, could have been peculiarly appropriate had it been addressed to a Pittsburgh audience, and on this I have a word or two to say, suggested by a conversation with an attache of the Executive Department.

GEARY'S PARDON.

Much has been said in Pittsburgh recently, concerning one of the Governor's pardons. I will not mention names, as it is unnecessary. That pardon, I venture to say, was as strongly recommended or urged as any ever granted to an Allegheny county offender, and were the public there advised of the nature of the recommendations made, and by whom, both by petition and in person, by county officers, Senators and representatives pleading at the Executive desk, in the Executive chamber, I feel quite sure some mouths would be most effectually stopped, and the innocent, uninformed people be amazed at the Governor's firmness in hesitating for a moment to refuse the pardon. Even the individual who welcomed the notoriety acheived by the circumstance of a bullet grazing his leg, and who now, to the outward seeming, in subserviency to the opposition, feels outraged that the desperado who assailed him should escape, wrote repeatedly beseeching clemency in his behalf. After what I have been made aware of in connection with this matter, I have no patience to write further about it, and out of regard for some political friends as well as enemies, your correspondent will "dry up," on the pardon question.

BIGHAM SPEAKS.

After the Governor came Hon. Thos. J. Bigham, who came here in response to a telegram from Hon. John Covode. Mr. B. said he believed that, should the Democracy be successful in Pennsylvania in October, and pandemonium opened for an hour, a hundred thousand dead rebels would come forth and shout glad tidings. He did not believe any such calamity was held in store by the Almighty, and asserted most confidently that a "copperhead" could not be elected Governor while he (Thomas J.) was alive. He went for Asa's "record," and related among other things the fact that at the Charleston Convention Asa threatened to "whale" Bill Linn, a Douglass man, for saying that the other set of Democrats were traitors. He spoke tenderly of the Westmoreland Democracy, they were princely good fellows, and incorruptible. He omitted the word "copperhead" out of regard for them, the more so as he first saw the light in their midst, and went to school, by-the-by, to John W. Geary's father, at the time one of the best common school teachers in the State. In the course of Mr. Bigham's remarks it became very apparent that during his recent visit east he had been busy "making out" facts which establish conclusively that Mr. Packer was a "Copperhead" of the deepest dye, although now a "bloated bondholder," trafficking in the securities of a government which, during the war, he did not contribute one dollar to sustain, although the possessor of millions.

The meeting adjourned about half past ten, the Republicans well pleased with the demonstration.

Fearing I have already written too much, I will call a halt.

Yours, HARTZ.

A Negro Colony in Michigan.

The Detroit Tribune has a letter from Cassopolis, Michigan, dated August 6th, which contains the following:

"Yesterday was a great day for Cass county. More than ten thousand citizens of this and the neighboring counties assembled upon the shores of Birch Lake to commemorate the abolition of slavery in the West Indian Islands. John M. Langston, of Ohio, the colored lawyer, was the centre of attraction to the large company that listened to his oration for more than an hour and a half. But to the stranger who came with something of doubt as to the success of the negro, and intent upon criticism, this meeting was an unlooked for success; and the order of things in the surrounding country, the satisfactory solution of a question that to many has been somewhat problematical.

"A full third of this multitude were the owners of many thousands of acres of the fairest land in Cass county. In the township of Calvin they are possessed of nearly one-half of the real estate, and pay little less than half the taxes. They have established a number of excellent schools, conducted by colored teachers. The building of two fine churches—Methodist and Baptist—is the best proof that they have not neglected moral and religious culture. They have good instructors in instrumental and vocal music, and support a fine brass band. We found here several men of liberal culture from Oberlin and Hillsdale Colleges, and one from our own State University. These young men are engaged in the practice of medicine, the mechanic arts and in the dry goods trade. They own and run steam sawmills and steam thrashing machines; they are manufacturing grain cradles and rakes, growing superior live stock, cultivating fruits and producing hundreds of acres of the finest grain. They are not merely an imitative people, but ingenious, self-reliant, positive and progressive, and will bear favorable comparison with their white neighbors in all the legitimate relations of life. Merchants and mechanics through all this region bear the highest testimony to their worth and promptness in business affairs. During a three weeks' visit in this part of the country, your correspondent has failed to detect the first instance of idleness or loaferism among them. They purchase lands, clear away dense forests, build homes and highways and churches, subscribe for newspapers, magazines and railroads; educate their children, sing the sweet songs of labor, love and home, and worship God with an evident consciousness that these are as much the aims and purposes of their life, as of their fair-haired Saxon neighbors, and not a subject of wonder and surprise to the many who have doubted their ability for self-sustenance.

LET US DISCUSS THE GREAT QUESTION.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to relieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as at the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be SIMULTANEOUSLY STRENGTHENED, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, a CORRECTIVE, a BLOOD DEPURENT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflammatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful alterative during the heated term and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient.

UNRIVALLED!

THE

WHEELER & WILSON

Sewing Machines.

LEADS ALL COMPETITORS.

The distinctive feature of the WHEELER & WILSON MACHINE is the use of a ROTARY HOOK to carry the loop of the upper thread around the spool containing the under, making the lock-stitch alike on both sides of the fabric, thereby doing away completely with the vibratory motion of a shuttle, the tension upon the under thread, and all devices for taking up slack thread; these are necessary on all two-thread Machines. The public have indorsed this principle by purchasing over 380 000 of our Machines—more than 100,00 in excess of those of any other manufacture! It has long been acknowledged by far the most simple Lock-stitch Machine in existence; having one-third less machinery than any other two-thread Sewing Machine.

(From the London Times.)

"The WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE, which is the ONE BEST CALCULATED FOR HOUSEHOLD WORK, uses no shuttle, and makes the LOCK-STITCH alike on both sides of the goods.

"Some of the Sewing Machines are very extravagant in the use of thread; one of the most noted of those making the double loop chain-stitch, using six yards of thread to one of sewing. This is a serious matter, looked upon in a manufacturer's point of view, where the great aim is to economize the material."

Thousands of Testimonials could be given from all parts of the world, were it necessary to the reputation of this well-known Family Sewing Machine.

I beg to state that I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, in family sewing, fourteen years, without even the most trifling repairs; and it is in so good condition that I would not exchange it for your latest number (now upwards of 300,000). One needle served me more than a year in fine sewing.

NEW YORK. MRS. ANNIE WARNER.

Mrs. Maxley has had her Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine in almost daily use for over eleven years without any repairs. She has done, with her own hands, during that period, the larger portion of the sewing for a family of eleven children on the machine, and part of the time for fifteen or twenty farm servants. She would not now change her Wheeler & Wilson for any other she has ever seen.

BRANDON, MISS. R. MAXLEY.

Capt. J. YOUNG, JR., of Robinson township, Allegheny county, says: We have used the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine in our family two years. My daughter received but two lessons, and is able to accomplish every variety of sewing without any difficulty whatever. We had used the "Howe" and "Grover & Baker," and after a fair trial of these three leading machines, we can most confidently assert that no machine is so simple or so well adapted for ladies' and family use, as the "Wheeler & Wilson."

My wife has used her Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, and has used only one needle for the last three years.

CHARLES J. GRAY.

NEWBURG, N. Y.

Ten years ago I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, and have had it in constant use in my family since. We used it during the war to make clothing for our volunteers in the service, and for the hospitals, and this work was very heavy, being coarse woolen and cotton fabrics. It is still in good working order, nothing having been broken but a few needles. You are welcome to use my name in your recommendations. MRS. HUGH McCULLOCH,

GREY NUNNERY, MONTREAL.

We, the undersigned, Sisters of Charity, certify with pleasure that, after a trial of ten years, we have found Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines superior in every respect to all others used in our establishment. Their mechanism is strong and perfect, and with little care never get out of order. SISTER COULTER,
SISTER BAYEUX,
General Hospital.

In order to facilitate the sale of, and place a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine within the reach of every one, we propose to lease them on the following terms: We will furnish one of our celebrated Sewing Machines to any one depositing with us fifteen dollars as security for its safe keeping, and paying us ten dollars per month for the use of the same. When the monthly payments and deposit amount to a sum equal to the Cash Price of the Machine, we will give a receipt in full for the Machine.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 19, 1869.

The sales were unusually large to-day, larger than any preceding day for sometime past, but compared with yesterday, refined is lower, and crude is weaker, with more offering, and futures are lower. The trade generally, however, continues in an unsettled and very unsatisfactory condition, and the indications for the future are not as bright as could be desired. In the present condition of affairs, there is nothing in the business for either refiners or dealers, and even "outsiders" who heretofore, would occasionally take a "venture," have, as a general thing withdrawn, and are giving their time and attention to their regular avocations, not caring to take the risk attending a venture of this kind when it promises no return.

REFINED.

Sales 2,000 bbls for August at 32; 2,000 do at 31⅞; and three "lines," 500 each September to December at 32⅜. As will be seen by the above, August is off from an ⅛ to a ¼, and lines for late months are ⅜ lower. It is but proper to state that most of the above sales were settlements of contracts.

CRUDE.

Sales 3,000, seller August, at 15; and 2,000 each September to December at 15. The last sale of September to December was at 15¼. Seller option all year, offered at 14½@14⅝, and buyer all year, nominal at 16@16½.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August, 19 1869.

The most important feature we have to notice is a slight weakness in the grain market, which is in consequence of the advices from the west, together with unfavorable news from Liverpool, at which place a sharp decline is reported.

There were rumors some little time ago that the weather in Europe was unprosperous to the growing crops, and on the strength of this report prices there took an upward turn, but during the past few days the dispatches from that country have uniformly quoted fair weather, and prices are now tending downward. The indications now are that unless there is a turn in the foreign market, prices must recede.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE PICTORIAL FIELD-BOOK OF THE WAR OF 1812; or Illustrations by pen and pencil, of the History, Biography, Scenery, Relics and Traditions of the late war for American Independence, by Benjamin J. Lossing, with several hundred engravings on wood, by Lossing and Barrit, chiefly from original sketches by the author. Published by Harper and Brothers, New York.

Few American authors received more substantial evidence of popular favor than MR. LOSSING, at the time his "Pictorial Field-Book of the Revolution" was published. The author showed singular ability in the construction of the important features of that great historical event. Rare discrimination was also shown in the grouping of the facts and incidents of that remarkable period. No labor or expense was spared to make it full and complete. His fame as an author was established by that monumental work. For many years since Mr. Lossing has devoted himself to preparing this companion volume on the war of 1812. It is a continuation of the history of our country from the close of the Revolution of 1783 to the end of the Second War with Great Britain in 1815. To accomplish and complete this herculean task, the author has traveled more than ten thousand miles in this country and in the Canadas, with notebook and pencil in hand, visiting places of historic interest connected with the War of 1812, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Undue haste has not been manifested in its preparation, but facts and papers have been carefully analyzed so as not to distort history. The sketches of the distinguished actors in that eventful war, and the places of conflict, are expressed in terse, crispy language, without anything of the sensational. The mere delineation of men and things connected with the War in itself, is sufficient to awaken thrilling interest. It will doubtless have a wide circulation, and no library is complete without it, and persons who cannot afford to buy many books should seek to have works of this character, in preference to thousands of others offered to the public.

THE ADVENTURES OF PHILIP, OR HIS WAY THROUGH THE WORLD; Showing Who Robbed Him, Who Helped Him and Who Passed Him by. To which is now prefixed "A Shabby, Genteel Story." By W. M. Thackeray. Household Edition. Published by Fields, Osgood & Co., Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

The excellence of this edition of the great Satirist have been presented before, but will bear repetition. The type is clear and printed on white paper. It is compact and portable, excellent size for library purposes, and is robed in green morocco cloth, and remarkably cheap. Besides the edition of six volumes, namely: "Vanity Fair," "Pendennis," "The Newcomes," "The Virginians," "The Adventures of Philip" and "Lovel the Widower," the publishers announce that in response to a general and urgent demand they will add to this edition all of Thackeray's Miscellaneous writings. The publishers deserve the thanks of the public for this handsome edition.

WEDLOCK: OR, THE RIGHT RELATIONS OF THE SEXES. Disclosing the laws of conjugal selections, and showing who may and who may not marry. By S. R. Wells, author of "New Physiogomy," editor of the Phrenological Journal, etc. Published by Samuel R. Wells, New York.

Works of this character are not expected to be perfect, as the question of marriage and its relations are viewed from different stand points. This work contains however much that is commendable, indeed it is an excellent compendium of historical facts on this subject, and will save readers much labor from seeking from various sources. There is also much practical and sensible knowledge communicated on different topics relating to wedlock, that are worthy to be observed. Many will differ with the author on some points, especially so far as relates to phrenology and physiology, though the views of the author are not pressed, neither are his religious opinions.

ASPASIA. By C. Holland. Published by J. B Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

The plain matter-of-fact-style of this work will impress the reader at the outset. There is very little effort to be sensational, indeed a little vein of this stamp might help it. The story itself is of a domestic type, in which the lights and shades of married life are wrought out under a cloud of trials and hindrances. Its crowning virtue however, aside from the harsh style of the day, is the fine vein of religious sentiment running through it. This fact will lead many persons to read it. The discipline of this farmer's daughter was severe, and the result finally was to her an advantage in her social relations.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF TEACHING. The Teacher, the Pupil, the School. By Nathaniel Sands. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

Rarely have we found so much sensible information compressed in a work of sixty pages. Mr. Sands deals with these questions in plain words, and his views are worthy of thoughtful consideration. The first part treats of the relation of teachers and training, in which the office of teacher is regarded as one that should be occupied by the best and purest persons, that education is absorption, and pupils should have help according to their ability to understand what they are taught. The second discourses of teaching and training, and the third to the school in general. Mr. Sands very properly argues that the youngest pupils should have the best teachers, from the fact that a child cannot advance to the teacher, as an older pupil, but depends wholly on what the teacher imparts. His views in regard to a practical, scientific education, in place of the study of dead languages, are correct and in time will be the rule and not the exception. His views of boarding schools are in the main correct, but are too broad and sweeping. A good boarding institution is a blessing in many respects.

UNCLE JOHN'S FLOWER GATHERERS. A Companion for the Woods and Fields. By Jane Jay Fuller. Published by M. W. Dodd, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co. Pittsburgh.

This is a charming book for young people, indeed old people may profit by its reading. The central character, around whom cluster a bevy of boys and girls, is a cripple, highly educated and wealthy. Each chapter contains the weekly reunion of the little flower-gatherers at the mansion of Uncle John, who describes the qualities of the flowers brought to him. The work is entirely in story form, and very entertaining. By this method the beautiful science of Botany is unfolded clearly, and in a way likely to leave permanent impressions. It is high toned and worthy of a place anywhere.

A PARSER AND ANALYZER FOR BEGINNERS, with Diagrams and Suggestive Pictures. By Francis A. March, Professor in Lafayette College and author of several excellent educational works. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

The object of Prof. March is to task the memory as little as possible, and bring into use the perception and judgment as much as possible. New beginners in the study of the English language will receive help that the usual grammars lack, and even advanced scholars may use the work to advantage, in connection with other works of this character. We regard the book as a sure sign of progress in Education, and ere long such helps will work a revolution in school books.

JOHN AND THE DEMIJOHN. A Temperance Tale. By Julia McNair Wright, author of "Almost a Nan," etc. Published by Henry Hoyt, Boston. For sale by F. G. Reineman, Third avenue, Pittsburgh.

This work delineates the history of a boy who was overcome, step by step, with strong drink, until he finally died a terrible death, all from the use of the intoxicating bowl. The lesson taught in this sad but thrilling story should be a beacon light to youths, and a warning to them to abstain from the use of liquor. Parents, especially mothers, will find words of warning and caution, to avoid placing the tempting bowl in reach of their children. Thousands are ruined by the carelessness of parents, and by their example, in having liquor in their houses. The work ought to do good.

THE SIEGE OF BABYLON. A Tragedy. By the author of "Africanius," "Faith," and other poems. Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

Prof. Leavitt, the author of this poem, received high enconiums from the press generally for his poetic genius in his previous poems of a tragic character. We do not propose to give the different parts of the plot of the "Siege of Babylon," and simply commend its flowing style and elevated tone. The author possesses strong descriptive powers.

THE PLAY SCHOOL STORIES FOR LITTLE FOLKS. Vols. 1 and 2 By Aunt Mattie. Published by Gould & Lincoln, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

The first volume of this series is an interesting story of a little girl named Julia. In this play story useful lessons are embodied, which serve to impress important truths upon youthful minds. Volume second gives also many bright pages in Julia's character, how she employed her time, in which others are prominent actors. Some interesting things are said of Fanny, one of the charming characters in these stories, that will awaken tender interest in the little folks.

THE LITTLE GATE. Rev. A. T. Spaulding, pastor of Walnut street Baptist church, Louisville, Ky. Published by Gould & Lincoln, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

This little volume is a story how to enter the little gate, or rather an allegory, urging the importance of being a child of God; and an illustration, showing how to become one.

ZELL'S POPULAR ENCYCLOPEDIA. T. Elwood Zell, Philadelphia. We have received Nos. 41 and 42 of this valuable publication. As we have already said, it seems to be the best cheap work of the kind, as well as the cheapest good one. It comes regularly, and has already reached as far as Bosphorus. The whole dictionary, complete and bound in two volumes, cloth, will not cost more than $27.00.

A STUDENT of Williams College who was to spend the summer vacation at Pittsfield, and whom his father gave $100 to do it with, got rid of that amount somewhat against his will in two little investments before the third day of the time had expired. The second day he bethought himself to offer a ride to a Laneboro' lady, to whom he owed a philopena present; and in the course of the afternoon, having stopped at a jewelry store, offered her the privilege of selecting such a present as she chose. She modestly selected a diamond ring, valued at $75—three-fourths of the whole vacation fund. Caught, he could not retrogade; pay he must, and pay he did, as gracefully as the circumstances would allow.

"MARK TWAIN" says he was present at a recent interview between ex-Secretary Stanton and Secretary Fish, and was subsequently greatly astonished to learn by the newspapers that it was a very important meeting, hinting that the Alabama question was the subject under discussion, when the conversation, in fact, only had reference to the cure of warts.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.
To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.
Liver Complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.
Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.
The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.
Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.
If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? it is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.
When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.
Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

Messrs. Joseph S. Finch & Co.'s extensive and famous distillery pays perpaps more revenue tax to the Government than many entire branches of other businesses in this community. It is steadily kept in operation, and the authorities look upon its proprietors as among the first representatives of the honest and law abiding distillers of the land, who faithfully and unbegrudgingly discharge their duty and obligation to the laws.

Three Times.—There are some men who can stand knocking down very well. Patrick O'Brien tacitly admitted yesterIt seems to agree with their constitutions day that he was one of this class. He stated before Alderman Taylor, that Michael Welsh had knocked him down three times in succession, adding by way of an extra entertainment, a threat to kill him at the first convenient opportunity. Under the circumstances the magistrate felt constrained to issue a warrant for the apprehension of Michael.

The Late Riot.

A correspondent writes to us regarding the recent riot at the Iron City Park, claiming to have been an eye witness to the whole proceeding, and exonerating the picnic from any connection with the affair. He says the disturbance did not take place until after six o'clock and it was caused by the shooting of the little boy by the policeman. Further, he claims that the fighting or rioting described in the papers occurred in taking the officer into the city—when, as the crowds heard of the aggravated shooting, they manifested their indignation in the manner described. The parties arrested were not at the picnic during the day, and an investigation will show that the officer who did the firing was by no means excusable.

Watch for Him.

A letter from John Thompson, G. S., of the Grand Lodge A. Y. M. of Pennsylvania, to D. D. G. M. Pollock, gives the description of a man apparently fifty years of age, six feet one or two inches high, without beard, who a short time since presented himself in Philadelphia, claiming to be Rev. Wm. C. Applegate, from Charleston, S. C., Washington Lodge No. 5. After imposing upon the lodges there to a considerable extent, he turned up at Coatesville, where he represented himself as one Remington, of Charity Lodge No. 9, Charleston, S. C. He applied for assistance to Pittsburgh, and as he suddenly cleared out (on being suspected), it is supposed he may be either here or on his way. Masons hereabouts will do well to be on the lookout for him.

Extensive.

A proposition has come before the Water Committee of Allegheny Councils, looking to the erection of a new water basin, to be built somewhere above the city, and made capable of supplying not only the corporation but all the small towns between it and Fairview, about nine miles up. It is thought that the additional expense, caused by the increased size of the basin above what would be necessary for the city's supply, would be met by the residents in the smaller towns, who would thus have the benefit of soft water at their doors. It is also thought that by building the new reservoir somewhere above the city, water of a purer quality may be obtained, a consumation eminently desirable We understand the Committee are at work investigating the feasibility of the project.

Valuable Watch Stolen.

A robbery was prepetrated at the St. Clair Hotel Wednesday, by which Capt Irish was relieved of a valuable gold watch and chain, and $30 in money. It appears that about eight o'clock in the evening the Captain had occasion to leave his room for a few minutes, which he did without taking the precaution to lock his door, and during his absence some one entered the room and prepetrated the robbery. A servant at the hotel was suspected of the robbery, but before he could be arrested, effected his escape. He left for Philadelphia on the two o'clock train yesterday. The matter is being worked up by officer McCready, who telegraphed to Philadelphia to have the fellow arrested.

THE BOAT RACE.

Hamill vs Coulter—Coulter Victorious—Time 38:30—Scene Along the River—Over the Course—At the Buoy—On the Home Streach—The Result &c.

So thoroughly disgusted were our citizens with the result of the proposed race between Hamill and Coulter, on the 7th inst. that for a time all interest in aquatic sports appeared to have subsided never to revive again. But the result of the race, yesterday and incidents connected therewith would indicate the contrary. The race of yesterday between those gentlemen and the fair and impartial manner in which it was conducted has a strong tendency to bring us back to the days when boat-racing was honorable, when aquatic sport was above par, and cause us for the time to forget the numerous "fiascos," "fouls" and "sells" which have taken place to the great disgust of lovers of the sport and the community in general, since Walter Brown made his appearance on the waters. That a fair race can be rowed was fully demonstrated yesterday.

THE RACE.

The race yesterday was one of the most interesting that has ever been pulled over the Monongahela course, and the result as a general thing the most satisfactory. All honest men felt and believed that the race was a fair one, and those who had backed Hamill gave up their money less reluctantly than they would have done had their been any claims of unfairness. The preliminary arrangements for the race having already been published, we will pass over them to

THE DAY.

A more favorable day for the race could not have been asked for, except, perhaps, the intense heat, which rendered the trip from the city to the scene of the race a little unpleasant, particularly to those who had interest enough in the matter, (of whom there were a goodly number) to make the trip on foot. Old Sol shone out in all his brilliancy, the prophecy of the Kentucky "sleeping woman" to the contrary notwithstanding, and scarcely a ripple disturbed the smooth surface of the river over which the race was to take place, save when some craft freighted with human beings coming to witness the sport, ploughed through the placid waters, disturbing them for a moment, and again they settled into peacefulness.

THE CROWD.

So great was the interest manifested in the contest that long before the hour for starting, the banks on both sides of the river, from one end of the course to the other, were covered with anxious spectators. The river from the city to the course was dotted with craft of every conceivable description, all conveying persons to the race, and as early as two o'clock the roads on both sides of the river were lined with carriages, buggies, wagons, and vehicles of every description, all loaded with living freight, and the excursion train on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, which left the city at three o'clock, carried hundreds more to swell the crowd. Notwithstanding the vast number of persons at the starting point on both sides of the river, comparative order and general good feeling prevailed.

THE BETTING.

There was a large amount of money changed hands, the betting on the North side of the river was spirited with odds of five to three on Hamill, all of which were freely taken by Coulter's backers, who, although they appeared to be in the minority on that side of the river, were well supplied with money and took all bets offered, showing a firm confidence in the ability of their favorite to vanquish the ex-champion, and the result shows how well they had measured the powers of the contestants. On the South side the betting was even, Hamill being the favorite until after the start, when Coulter's men became more sanguine and it became necessary for them to offer odds on Coulter to get bets taken.

THE MEN.

Our reporter being on the ground early, visited the men at their places, and found Coulter at the Coal Valley Hotel, on the south side of the river. He occupied a room on the second floor, in company with his wife and another lady. He was lying on a bed taking his ease, was in excellent spirits, and conversed pleasantly and freely. He appeared confident of success, and was not more so than his wife, who is a most pleasant and agreeable lady. His weight in rowing costume was one hundred and fifty-eight pounds, and he appeared the very picture of health. In his boat-house the most perfect order prevailed. Since the last race, or "fiasco," Coulter has been in constant training, which doubtless accounts for his excellent condition and healthful appearance.

Hamill did not make his appearance at his boat house until about four o'clock, and in consequence of the crowd of loafers assembled there, was compelled to withdraw to the grove a short distance off, where he remained until the hour for starting had arrived. He has gained one pound since the 7th inst., but was in other respects in fine condition, having been in constant training since that time. As usual, on such occasions, he was nervous, and cross and a little out of humor, we suppose on account of having to vacate his boat house, where a few minutes before the time for starting, a most disgraceful scene occured. A rough from Philadelphia, calling himself Elliot, attacked an inoffensive man, much smaller than himself and abused him shamefully without cause or provotion.

PREPARATIONS.

Before starting, the referee anchored two buoys fifty feet apart directly opposite Haberman's coal tipple, from which the contestants were to start, it having been previously agreed that Coulter should have the north and Hamill the south side. The river was dotted with all kinds of craft, which were required to move out of the way and leave the course unobstructed, and the different steamers took up positions at either side of the river, where those on board could have the best view of the race.

IN POSITION.

A few minutes past five o'clock Hamill's boat was launched and the ex-champion, emerging from his boat house, entered it and pulled leisurely to the starting point or buoy, accompanied by his trainer in a shell or single scull boat. Some five minutes later Coulter emerged from his boat house, which was anchored on the south side of the river, some distance above the starting buoys, and with his beautiful, long, measured pull, rowed down to Hamill's boat house and then back to the buoy, where he rested, quietly awaiting

THE START.

Shortly after the contestants made their appearance, the separation boat, manned by three men chosen by Hamill and three by Coulter, the referee in the capacity of coxswain, took up a position equi distant between them, and at twenty-two minutes past five the word "go" was given by the referee.

Coulter was as usual off his watch and failed to strike the water properly at the first stroke, and Hamill, who was on the alert, shot forward, going nearly a boat length before the Manchester man got properly down to his work. Jimmy never pulled prettier or with more life and seemingly more power than on this occasion, but the long, steady and powerful stroke of the Manchester man soon began to tell, and before Hamill's boat house had been passed Coulter had regained the length he lost at the start and was slowly passing Hamill. The cheering, which was at the start from Hamill's friends, was now taken up by Coulter's friends and, combined with the screaming of the boat whistles, it was almost deafening. Before the next three hundred yards had been passed Coulter was fully four boat lengths in advance of the ex-champion. The betting at this stage became more quiet, and there was an apparent decline of Hamill stock.

OVER THE COURSE.

From the time that the contestants passed Hamill's boat house, about two hundred yards from the starting point, the winning man had the race in his own hands, and knowing his advantage wisely kept it. From that point until hid from view by a bend in the river, the Manchester man steadily gained on the ex-champion. He then appeared to let up a little, and when passing Laughlin's station, which is about one and a half miles from the starting point, he was four boat lengths in advance, At this point Jimmy made one of his best efforts, and succeeded in overtaking and passing his antagonist, but Coulter, by a few long, steady strokes, steadily gained upon him and passed him nearly a length. Before the buoy was reached, however, Hamill, by a spurt, came up with him and they turned their buoys together. Coulter made the best turn and before a hundred yards had been placed between his boat and the buoy he was leading Hamill nearly a boat's length. From that point the race became most interesting although it was quite evident that Coulter would win. His stroke was the same he started with, and he appeared as fresh as when we saw him reclining upon his bed an hour before the start, while Hamill, who persistently adheres to the short stroke, was not striking as rapidly as when he started, was doing his "level best," but was gradually falling behind, nevertheless, Coulter continued to gain upon him slowly until they hove in sight of the starting point when he apparently let up and allowed Jimmy to reduce the twelve or fourteen lengths which separated them to ten, in this position he passed the score making the five miles in thirty-eight minutes and thirty seconds. Hamill came in thirty seconds behind.

THE CONCLUSION.

The referee announced, when Coulter passed the score, that the time was 37:50, but so far as we could ascertain, made no further decision. Hamill pulled up to the score, and then turning, pulled quietly to his boat house, when he announced to his friends that he had been fairly beaten, and as a consequence those who had backed him or bet their money on him, had lost fairly. Coulter waited only to hear the referee announce the time, then pulled to his boat-house, apparently as fresh as he left it forty minutes before, where he was greeted by his friends with enthusiastic cheers.

The crowd then began to disperse, and it was not until that time that we had formed any true estimate of the vast concourse of people present.

INCIDENTS.

There were but few incidents occuring outside of what we have already related, worthy of note. The blackgaurd, of whom we had occasion to speak in another place, in consequence of his conduct at Hamill's boat house, rowed over to the opposite side of the river, and after the race took occasion to say some hard things about Hamill, and among others alleging that he sold the race. A friend of Jimmy's hearing the charge, very justly refuted it by knocking the fellow in the river. He scrambled out and drew a revolver and threatened to shot the man who had so justly punished him. An officer present took the ruffian in charge and kept him until he quieted down and then allowed him to take his departure.

ENTERPRISE.

The Western Union Telepraph Company in keeping with their usual enterprise in such matters, located a temporary office in the field, near the starting point, and furnished our citizens with bulletins of the race as it proceeded. So perfect was the arrangements, that the result of the race at different points along the course, as well as the final result was known in the city as soon as it could be ascertained by the operator, aided by a competent corps of assistants.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

In the District Court yesterday morning the argument in the case of the owners of the steamboat Bayard vs. the tugboat Coal Valley was resumed.

In the Admiralty branch, E. S. Woodruff, of Erie, filed a libel in behalf of B. F. Thornton and others, against the schooner Governor Hunt, now lying near the southern shore of Lake Erie, in Erie county, for the purpose of securing salvage due them. The vessel was blown ashore in a storm, on the 15th of August, and the libellants saved some two hundred barrels of refined oil from the wreck. The Court granted a warrant of arrest, and a narration ordered, returnable a Erie, on the 17th day of September.

In the case of Mason et al. vs. Adam Jacobs et al., being a motion to dissolve an injunction, and which was argued in the Circuit Court several days since, Court refused to grant the motion.

THRILLING INCIDENT.

An Infuriated Bullock in West Newton—Two Men Fatally Injured—Narrow Escape of Three Ladies.

A most thrilling incident occurred at West Newton, on the line of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, yesterday morning, by which the usually quiet village was thrown into a state of indescribable excitement, in consequence of the serious and perhaps fatal injury of two respected citizens, and the narrow eseape of several others.

It appears that a butcher residing in the town had purchased a bullock, which he was driving to the slaughter house. The animal proceeded quietly through the streets of the town, until near the slaughter pen, where, getting a scent of blood, he became furious and unmanageable. He first made a dart at the butcher, who had been driving him, and failing to catch him, rushed furiously down the main street of the town, attacking every person and anything that came in his way. While proceeding in his mad course, he made an attack upon a Mr. Icely, who happened to be crossing the street in front of him, and striking him with his sharp horns, gored him in a most frightful manner, tearing a portion of his lungs out, and leaving his heart exposed to view. Another gentlemen, whose name we could not ascertain, fared but little better, as he was caught between the head of the infuriated animal and a fence and completely crushed. The maddened brute then made a dash at three ladies who were standing in the door of a millinery establishment, who escaped serious injury and perhaps death by having presence of mind sufficient to rush into the house and close the door. The enraged animal rushed on and in his way was a projecting window filled with millinery goods. Striking the window with his head, it was torn down and the goods scattered in every direction. The animal then turned his attention to a gentleman on the street, who, seeing his danger, started to run for a place of safety, closely pursued by his bullship which was rapidly gaining upon him. Just at this instant, however, when the beast was about to lower his head to strike his victim, the man fortunately struck his foot against a stone and fell flat upon his face, and the bullock passed over him and made a dash for some one else. By this time a number of citizens had armed themselves with rifles, and after shooting the animal seven times succeeded in killing him.

The injured men received proper medical attention, but no hopes are entertained for the recovery of either of them.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

The time was, many years ago, when it was doubtful whether "Hostetter's Bitters" were anything more or better than scores of other preparations that were placarded over the country, and after an ephemeral existence sunk into merited oblivion. Hostetter's remarkable preparation was found to possess all the preventive and curative virtues claimed for it, and the consumption and demand have steadily and constantly increased until there is scarcely a city or town throughout christendom in which it is not known and extensively used. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter and Smith, of this city, have found it necessary from time to time to enlarge their laboratory for its manufacture, until it has grown to be one of the largest, as it is one of the most complete and perfect manufactories anywhere to be found; it is kept constantly in operation and the product is shipped off daily to all directions, and to the remotest haunts of civilization. We have Spoken of the great extent of the establishment, and of its business. The firm is further distinguished throughout its vast correspondence for the perfect order and system, every where observable, as well as for regularity and rectitude in all its dealings. We are happy to know that these qualities and characteristics have been crowned with their legimate reward in an abundant prosperity, and that much of the wealth gathered from a long and successful "minding of their own business" is made active and useful for the public, as well as their private good, by liberal investments in the public institutions and improvements calculated to advance the material prosperity of Pittsburgh.

"Much Ado, &c."

Monday afternoon, two prominent citizens of Allegheny started on a trip to the Southwest. At Cincinnati they fell into the hands of the Philistines, or rather the Chief of Police, who exhibited a dispatch dated Pittsburgh, authorizing their detention for passing counterfeit money. The ticket agent at the depot here, who was not acquainted with them, alleged they had passed upon him in purchasing tickets, a counterfeit fifty dollar greenback. To say they were indignant, would be to draw it mild, but there was no help for it and they had to submit, until the matter could be explained. The agent went on Tuesday night, and the twain by this time have doubtless shaken the dust of Cincinnati off their feet and proceeded on their journey. The affair is regarded as an excellent joke by their acquaintances here. They are both among Allegheny's most substantial business men, and to be regarded as suspected criminals and have descriptions of them telegraphed to all the little way stations between here and Cincinnati, and be looked upon suspiciously by even the little train boys, and to be gloated over as rich prizes by the ardent detectives, certainly was a little too "aggrawating," and enough to excite their sensibilities. The whole affair, it seems, arose out of a mistake which was easily rectified.

To Magistrates.

District Attorney A. L. Pearson has issued the following circular, which we commend to the attention of magistrates:

OFFICE OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY,
ALLEGHENY COUNTY,
Pittsburgh, August 14, 1869.

Owing to the irregularity in the taxation of magistrates' costs, to the difficulty of finding the prosecutors, defendants and bail on information and recognizances made and taken before the Alderman and Justices of the Peace, and returned to Court, it has become necessary to notify the officers above named that hereafter there shall be endorsed upon the information and recognizance:

First. The name, residence and postoffice address of the prosecutor.

Second. The name and residence of the defendant or defendants.

Third. The name, occupation or business, residence and postoffice address of the bail in any recognizance.

Fourth. The name of counsel for the respective parties.

And all bills of costs shall be endorsed or entered upon the margin of such information, specifying the separate items of such bill of costs.

And further, that bail shall be justified in all cases.

A. L. PEARSON, District Attorney.

Tomahawk Tactics.

It has been generally thought, dexterity and strength in that peculiar exercise and mode of warfare—throwing the tomahawk—was possessed alone by Indians, who had made it a practice all their lives. This delusion must vanish, however, if certain statements made by Albert Hinton are taken as testimony in support of David McClarren's ability in this respect. Hinton and McClarren are, or rather were, employed at the outer Depot of the Ft. Wayne Railroad, Second ward, Allegheny, and McClarren's singular skill is said to have been developed in this wise: Hinton says he observed McClarren taking some tools out of his chest yesterday morning and mildly requested him to desist, whereat McClarren became enraged and knocked him down. He stood erect in a moment and endeavored to flee from the presence of his his assailant. He says he would have succeeded had not McClarren picked up a huge hammer, and with swift and unerring aim sent it flying after his quickly retreating form. That floored him, and left an exceedingly tender spot on the back of his head that was not there before. The pleasant, but somewhat exciting little episode attracted the attention of the "boss," who learned the circumstances and promptly dispensed with the further services of the parties. Hinton then wended his way to Alderman McMasters' office and made information against McClarren, charging him with aggravated assault and battery. Officer Blondin is searching for the accused.

Conflicting Interests.

It is not well generally for two families to have possession of one yard in common. Generally such a possesion has the effect of disturbing the harmony of neighborly feeling which should exist between families living in the vicinity of each other. A melancholy instance of this fact occurred yesterday and was developed at Alderman Bolsters office. Mrs. Margeret Moulder, and Francis and Elizabeth Depper were the unhappy victims of a strife engendered solely from this situation of affairs. They live in adjoining houses but use in common the same yard. As might have been expected, a conflict of interest resulted and could not be settled. The disagreement seems to have proceeded beyond the bounds of propriety, as Mrs. Moulder in relating the circumstance to Alderman Bolster distinctly averred that the Deppers individually and collectively had wounded her feelings to such an extent that nothing but "the law" would serve as a balm. She was accommodated. The Deppers were arrested and a council of war held at the headquarters of Justice. Peace was the result, which was achieved by a slight diminution of the ready cash held by the parties.

The Revellers.

The first customers who dropped in at Menster's cigar store, Butchers Run, Seventh ward, Allegheny, yesterday morning, were two young men, who were returning to the city about six o'clock in the morning from a moonlight picnic, given at West View, on the road to Perrysville. The young men it is alleged, were in a somewhat festive mood, and after purchasing a few cigars they playfully attacked the proprietor of the store and his wife, creating considerable disturbance in the establishmedt, and it is said, leaving their victims with several painful remembrances of their visit. Later in the day, Mrs. Menster made information against two young gentlemen for assault and battery. They were arrested, but at the hearing last evening, the prosecutrix failed to identify them, and they were discharged. The guilty young revellers are still at liberty.

Supplementary.

We have spoken elsewhere in to-days issue of the extent and character of the business prosecuted in this city, by the eminent house of Hostetter & Smith. It is due to the advertising press generally, to say that the firm has been among its most liberal patrons, and ascribes to their extensive and systematic use of some twelve hundred popular journals of the country, a large share in diffusing a knowledge of their address and business. They do not limit their use of printers ink to the newspapers, but employ a number of job work presses in printing immense editions of their elegant almanacs, of which we understand, several millions are circulated annually, in which department, as in the laboratory and every other department of their business, everything is under careful and skillful supervision of experienced overseers.

For the Penitentiary.

Among the youthful candidates for the Penitentiary,—and we are sorry to observe that there are a few of these aspirants among our juvenile population,—the lad who yesterday perpetrated the robbery at Hespenheide's store, Sixth avenue, occupies a promising position. The smart boy came into the store to get a pair of pants for another person. The clerk went up stairs to get them, leaving him alone in the store. He improved the opportunity to unlock the money drawer behind the counter, abstract fifty dollars therefrom, lock it up, and resume his former position at the counter before the clerk's return. The robbery was not discovered until a short time after his departure, when a search was made for him. He was not found, but is well known and will doubtless be secured to-day.

After the Race.

The boat race is over, and people who became excited over the event may now resume their usual placidity and contemplate other affairs, which are perhaps more to their interest. Among these, especially to smokers and lovers of the weed generally, will be the important fact that John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, has now, and constantly keeps on hand, one of the largest assortments of the various grades of tobacco, snuff and cigars, together with smoking implements of all varieties, to be found anywhere in either city. Everything in his establishment is up to the standard and is of that excellence which has always made this house a favorite resort for purchasers. We advise any in need of articles in his line, to remember Megraw, at 45 Hand street.

What is a song for a wet day? Humid-ditty.

What is an old maid's song? Acid-ditty.

What is Urben's Blooming Pearl song? A blond-ditty.

What is the lady's song who don't use it? Odd-ditty.

What is the song of those who do use it? Cupid-ditty.

Pretty Women.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish, and single out pretty faces for companions.

This can all be changed by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth and a Refined sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing, powerful, and natural,

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckeled or rustic Complexion who will invest 75 cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Katharion. MWFF,

Women in Austria preform the duties of bricklayers laborers, and may be seen carrying hods of mortar and baskets of bricks up high ladders. More than this, they actually supply the place of navies, and dig and wheel barrows of "ballast" almost as nimbly as their lords. They chop wood, they carry water, they offer to black your boots in the streets, and preform many other little offices which, according to our notions hardly come under the denomination of "woman's work" Perhaps this state of things is unavoidable in a country where it is considered necessary to keep a standing army of 800,000 men, The womens work inordinately hard, while hundreds of idle men are constantly sauntering about in various uniforms, doing nothing at all except perhaps blowing a cloud of tobacco smoke.
